

Lawyers in Libraries

Because libraries are at the heart of our communities and justice is at the heart of our democracy.

The Justice Action Group (JAG) has again started planning the Lawyers in Libraries program for Law Day, which this year will be on Friday, May 1. JAG does not currently have any administrative help, but as many libraries are eager to participate this year, a number of librarians agreed to take on some of the responsibilities of organizing this year's program.

Whether you participated before or not, if you have a connection to your local library, you may be hearing directly from your librarian asking whether you would be willing to participate this year and staff the project for a couple of hours. If you know that you would be willing to take part in Law Day this year, you are also welcome to contact your local library to check if they are planning a Law Day event, and to let them know that you would be available to participate.

The MSBA continues to support the Lawyers in Libraries Law Day program and hopes that it will be an ongoing success. More information will be forthcoming about the program, including whom to contact if you decide to participate.

Thank you.
