

“Lawyers in Libraries”
Limited Representation Disclosure and Acknowledgement

As a Client participating in this voluntary program of Lawyers in Libraries, there are some basic rules that must be followed.

First, the help I receive today is limited to the lawyer answering some general civil legal problem(s). It does not relate to matters of a criminal nature, and no forms are being prepared.

Second, the volunteer lawyer will listen to my legal issue(s), and may give me some referral information and suggestions about what to do next in the legal process. The lawyer will not independently investigate my matter, and may not be able to answer all my questions. The lawyer will attempt to help me find other legal resources that may be appropriate to my case and situation.

I further agree and understand, as a Client participating in this program, that the volunteer lawyer:

- Will not be assisting me after today and will not be representing me in court.
- Will not be able to provide me with full or on-going representation.
- Cannot guarantee the outcome of my case.
- Does not know of any conflicts of interest affecting this representation and I know of none either. This is based upon the brief description of my matter and the identification of those people and/or businesses that may be involved. The lawyer has not had the opportunity to check any outside sources, such as their computers or with their staff, to identify any conflicts of interest.
- Will not keep a file or any papers in safe keeping for my case.

I HAVE READ THIS DISCLOSURE AND AGREEMENT, OR HAVE HAD IT READ TO ME, AND UNDERSTAND AND AGREE TO ITS TERMS. I HAVE BEEN GIVEN A COPY OF THIS AGREEMENT FOR MY INFORMATION.
